MRS. GROSVENORS' HORSES DRAWN

New York Sportswoman Declines to Submit to Decisions of Atlantic City Horse Show Judges.

CORINNE GETS THE GATE

Champion Saddle Mare, Winner of Many Prizes, Declared To Be Lame and Dismissed from Show Ring.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Saturday.—The last day of the Atlantic City Horse Show closed in a drizzling rain that turned the ring into a sea of muddy tanbark and cut down the attendance to less that a thousand enthusiasts, who braved the weather to applaud their favorites in championship classes, the leading events of the day. In spite of the bad condition of the oval no accidents occurred, but most of the drivers left the ring bespattered with mud.

Dissension between Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor and the judges over ring decisions by which several of her favorites were beaten reached an acute stage this afternoon when Corinne, winner of ladies' saddle horse events during the week, was given the gate after the judges had decided that the mare was lame.

Following a ring decision last night in which Boston was given the blue over Mrs. Grosvenor's champion, Rosebery, announcement was made that the New York sportswoman would withdraw all her harness entries, and none of them were shown to-day.

President G. Jason Waters and Secretary W. S. Blitz, of the Horse Show Association, stated this afternoon that the present exhibition was the most successful ever given in Atlantic City, and said that several shows would hereafter be made a feature of the seashore horse show.
