ROCHESTER HOLDS N. Y. U. ELEVEN TO LONE TOUCHDOWN

Violet Loses Many Opportunities to Score, Winning 7 to 0.

Encountering unexpected severe opposition from the University of Rochester team, New York University's football machine was able to score only seven points against the Flower City outfit on Ohio Field yesterday afternoon, the Violet eleven defeating the invaders, 7 to 0. Outplaying the Yellow combination at all stages, and holding the ball practically during the entire fray in its enemy's territory, Tom Thorp's aggregation lacked the final punch, losing several chances to score.

After two scoreless periods, Martin Tarr, the converted end, now playing a slashing game in the backfield, received a punt on Rochester's 40-yard line and ran from that mark through the entire upState team across the goal line for the longest dash of the fracas. Frank Howley tacked on the seventh marker on a placement kick, concluding the scoring.

N. Y. U. Lacks Punch.

N. Y. U. had several opportunities to cross Rochester's goal line but the Yellow forward wall displayed a persistent tendency to tighten up when the Violet was deep in the visitors' field. In the opening quarter, Tarr received a punt and brought it back five yards to Rochester's 40-yard stripe. Tarr, Jablonka, Schres and Weidman pierced the Yellow defense for two first downs and a 25-yard advance. Coach Sullivan's men held strongly at this point and compelled the Heights' combination to surrender the ball.

In the second quarter, N. Y. U. again failed to exhibit a sustained attack and gave up the ball on Rochester's 22-yard line. In the final period, the Heights pigskin chasers passed up two other openings when they were unable to maintain their offensive after reaching their opponents' 20-yard mark.

Both teams were astonishingly ineffective at the overhead game. The visitors were especially weak at the aerial method of attack, completing only 3 out of 13 attempts. N. Y. U. was also deficient in this department, only 1 of its 7 tries being successful. The University Heights team's ground gaining ability was superior, N. Y. U. being credited with 8 first downs to their opponents' 5.

Lange, of Manual Training, and Fraim, of Erasmus, both backs, also broke into the lineup and showed up well for the Violet. The lineup:

YALE UNCOVERS TWO NEW STARS IN FIRST GAME

Eli Bulldog Swamps North Carolina Eleven by a 53 to 0 Score.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 6—opening the football season with a brilliant attack, the Yale bulldog swamped the North Carolina eleven 53 to 0 in the Yale Bowl here today. The Elis outplayed the Southerners in all parts of the game while the latter were helpless in trying to gain against the wall of blue warriors. North Carolina made only one first down.

Two new stars were uncovered by Coach Tad Jones of Yale in Richeson, playing his first game at quarterback, and Stevens, who replaced O'Hearn at left halfback. Richeson handled the team like a veteran and his returns of punts, receiving of forward passes and end runs were sensational. Stevens led the Eli scoring with three touchdowns. His punting was excellent as were his off tackle runs and passing. The veteran halfbacks, Neale and O'Hearn, scintillated on defense until relieved by substitutes and Captain Mallory starred on defense.

O'Hearn made the most thrilling play of the game when he skirted the North Carolina left end in a 53-yard dash over the goal line helped by perfect interference. Bench, who took Mallory's place, made a 75-yard run after intercepting a North Carolina forward pass in the last period. Yale marched straight down the field for 65 yards on a series of line plays and a short forward pass toward the end of the third period. Stevens scoring from the 10-yard line on the first play in the final period.

North Carolina's poor punting made the Eli touchdowns easier. In the first quarter two kicks netted the Southerners only nine yards, both kicks bounding out of bounds. Yale completed six out of twelve attempts, one being intercepted.

Meadows Hurls Pirates to 7—1 Victory Over Reds

Cincinnati, Oct. 6—Pittsburg easily defeated the Reds in the first game of their final series today, 7 to 1. Rixey was not hit hard in the four innings he pitched, but his support was ragged. Meadows blanked the home club until the ninth, when a double by Burns and a single by Bressler saved them from a shutout. The score:

Unassisted Triple Play As Braves Beat Phils Twice

Boston, Oct. 6—Boston closed its season today by defeating Philadelphia twice, winning the first game, 5 to 4, in 14 innings, and the second, 4 to 1, in 4½ innings. Ernest Padgett, recruit Boston shortstop, made a triple play unassisted in the fourth inning of the second game. Tierney and Lee had singled and were on second and first bases, respectively. Holke lined sharply to Padgett, who caught the ball close to the ground. He ran to second, forcing Tierney, and then caught and touched Lee before he could get back to first base.

In the first game Bishop relieved Ring at the start of the 14th inning and passed Nixon. McInnis tripled to the scoreboard and Nixon scored the run that consigned Philadelphia to last place. Boston used a team composed for the most part of recruits in the second game. The scores:

Harvard Uses Big Squad in Initial Game

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 6—Harvard rushed the lighter Rhode Island State team off its feet today and rolled up a score of 35 to 0 in its first game of the season. The Crimson used 34 men in the game. Harvard, outweighing its opponents in every position, confined itself to a rushing game.

Only one forward pass was attempted, and it grounded. There was much fumbling on both sides. Eastman, Harvard's 210-pound tackle, was the running star of the game, going over for a touchdown after a 23-yard run in the first period.

The lineup:

Harvard (35).	Pos.	Rhode Island (0).

Zev a Worthy Opponent of Great Papyrus

ing this race has caused surprise to many members of the Jockey Club. The members of this committee no doubt will say, "How could any person declare that Zev would be the banner bearer of the U. S. A. when the committee did not make the selection until the afternoon of Oct. 5?"

But, just the same, whether it will be a surprise to the committee or not, Zev, barring the result of the so-called accident to his frog, was the colt named by men who appeared to know what they were talking about. One man offered to bet me odds of 2 to 1 that Zev would be the opponent of Papyrus—and that offer was made during the first few days of the Belmont Park fall meeting—and long before the race for the Lawrence Realization, which Zev won.

Zev Greatest Winner of Season.

Whether willingly or not, the men responsible for the greatest race that has ever been scheduled to take place on the American turf certainly bowed the knee to Harry F. Sinclair, the owner of Zev. This is not said with any criticism of the selection made by the committee. Zev this year has certainly earned the distinction of being considered the best three-year-old thoroughbred in America. His record speaks for itself. He has won 8 out of 9 races and leads all winning thoroughbreds of the year with $151,248.

His one defeat was in the Preakness Stakes, a week previous to his sensational victory in the Kentucky Derby. He was kicked while standing at the barrier at the Pimlico track, was caught in a jam in the first turn, shuffled back and lost so much ground that he never was a factor in the struggle.

What racegoers object to in the selection is that the committee in charge of the affair did not adhere strictly to the conditions—that the aspirants for the honor of meeting Papyrus must race at one mile and a half in an event designated as the National Trial Stakes. The winner was to be selected as the opponent of Papyrus. Instead of living up to those conditions Harry F. Sinclair and his trainer, Sam C. Hildreth, forced an issue by declaring that Zev would not start in the National Trial, but would race in the Lawrence Realization Stakes, a race of one mile and five furlongs.

By that action Sinclair and Hildreth deliberately sidestepped a race with My Own, the colt that had beaten Bunting for the Saratoga Cup and which by a clean record of sterling races at the Spa had clearly demonstrated that he was a worthy opponent of Zev, particularly over the mile and a half route. It was then that the Committee did the goose step and wheeled about to suit the wishes of Sinclair and Hildreth. The Committee decided there and then that the winner of the Lawrence Realization would be considered as well as the winner of the National Trial Stakes.

Toss Up Between Zev and My Own.

It would be folly to say which is the better colt—Zev or My Own. Both have won remarkable races. I have told the readers of The Eagle that there is no comparison between the two on the score of speed. In a short race, that is of a mile, or less, Zev could fairly tie My Own in knots. But in a race of a mile and a half the superiority of Zev would be diminished if not completely eliminated. Don't infer from this, dear reader, that I think it is a sure thing that My Own can beat Zev at a mile and a half. But I do think that it would be a real horse race between them.

Papyrus Impresses Turfmen.

The mile trial of Papyrus at Belmont Park yesterday was sufficient, in spite of the slo wtime, to cause a keen reaction in the odds offered against him in the match race. Early last week his odds were 3 to 1. This price was established by the English layers in London. They thought so little of his chance of beating Zev under the conditions that they made Zev a 2 to 7 favorite with 3 to 1 against Papyrus.

But the layers and turfmen of America were not so pessimistic regarding the chance of Papyrus winning the race. His odds here in most cases were 5 to 2. But when it was learned that he had stepped his first mile trial of any consequence in 1:48, and that the last half was in 50 seconds, with the final quarter in 24 seconds, there was a decided change in the odds and his price came tumbling down to 8 to 5.

Of course that one mile in 1:48 doesn't mean anything. It's nothing more than a two-minute clip for a racehorse. The real thing worth while was the last half. That was fairly good. It showed that the first quarter of that half was in 26 seconds and the last quarter in 24 seconds. Neither quarter was startling, but it served to indicate that Papyrus is not altogether a racer, but has game speed. One can get a better line on him next Tuesday when he will have his first real, honest to goodness trial at racing speed.

CRESCENT SOCKERS WIN.

Team B of the Crescent Athletic Club yesterday defeated the socker eleven of the Montclair Athletic Club by the score of 1 goal to 0 on the Crescent A. C. grounds at Bay Ridge. There was no scoring in the first half. Ten minutes after the restart Campbell, off a pass by the center, shot the Crescents' only goal. This was the first game in the annual series of the Field Club Socker League.

White Sox Send Indians Down Into Third Place

Cleveland, Oct. 6—Chicago won both ends of a doubleheader here today, taking the first by a score of 6 to 3 and the second, 7 to 6. The second game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. The Indians were knocked out of second place by the defeat. Score:
