

TEAM AND DRIVER IN RIVER.

Huebner's Horse Bolts, Leaps with Him from Pier, and Disappears.

A detail of policemen from the East Twenty-second Street Station was sent out last night to search for Frank Huebner of 2,554 Seventh Avenue and his horse and carriage, in the East River at the foot of Twenty-first Street. The horse ran away with Huebner in the carriage, and before the driver could jump out sprang into the water and disappeared.

Twenty men around the wharf offered to assist the police. A number of row-boats were sent out, but no one could find any trace of the horse, wagon, or man. The police rescued an unconscious man from the water at the place where the team went into the river, and it is believed that he was knocked overboard by the carriage.

Thomas W. Steele of 531 West 185th Street was with Huebner in the carriage when the horse bolted. Steele was thrown out. His nose was broken and he was badly bruised. Steele said Huebner was to marry his 18-year-old sister, Martha Steele, on Jan. 1.

TRI-CITY GOLF THIS WEEK.

Travis Will Captain Local Team—Eastern Professionals in Championship.

Three important golf events will claim the attention of local players this week. The first will be the initial championship of the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association, to be played Tuesday and Wednesday on the links of the Forest Hill Golf Club, N. J. The professional championship at thirty-six holes medal play will be decided on the first day, and a four-ball foursome, in which the leading amateurs of the metropolitan district have been invited to compete, will be the feature of the second day. For the professional championship nine money prizes have been offered, the first being $125. The second man will get $85, and the purses will be graded down to $10 for ninth place. As Aleck Smith, George Low, Isaac Mackle, and other notable local professionals will be competitors, low scores and close finishes are practically assured.

The University Golf Club tournament, open only to members of the University Club, will hold its eleventh semi-annual handicap competition on Wednesday on the links of the St. Andrew's Golf Club, near Chauncey, N. Y. Handicaps will be based, so far as possible, on the Metropolitan Association ratings. A gross score prize will be awarded and three net score prizes. The competition will be thirty-six holes, and entries close on Tuesday with Richard S. Thomas, 70 Fifth Avenue. The committee in charge of the tournament consists of Austen C. Fox, Chairman; Robert L. Harrison, Frank A. Moore, Arthur H. Lockett, and Richard S. Thomas.

On Friday and Saturday the annual tri-city team competition for the Lesley Cup will be played on the links of the Merion Cricket Club, near Philadelphia. Walter J. Travis has been selected Captain of the New York team, and the other teams will be from Boston and Philadelphia. Ten men will play on each team, but twelve men will be selected by each Captain, and from these the ten contestants will be picked on the morning of the match.
