

VALLEY GOLFERS RETAIN TROPHY

Noble Players Make Wonderful Showing and Again Win Club Record Cup

Merion C. C. Finishes Second. Club's Women Experts Contribute Largely to Standing

The local golfing world is now discussing the official records of the past season's play. Just issued by Secretary Harrison Townsend, and the tabulated figures will give much food for thought while the links are in the embrace of King Winter. First of all there are the points credited to the clubs affiliated with the Golf Association of Philadelphia, and scoring for the much sought after Club Record Cup.

Huntingdon Valley once more heads the list, and this organization wins the trophy for another year. They finished the season with 481 1/2 points to their credit, their biggest gains being secured through the medium of the inter-club team matches. Winning both the trophies in these contests, and being strongly supported by the women, who nobly came to the men's aid with 105 1/2 points in their series, the Noble Club has the satisfaction of having another year's hold on the cup.

The most striking feature about the showing of the Merion Cricket Club, which finished second, was the showing of their women golfers. Of the total of 316 1/2 points, which landed them in their enviable position in the race, their representatives of the so-called weaker sex contributed no less than 221 1/2 points. The Philadelphia Cricket Club finished third, their men scoring about double what the Merion players were responsible for, and the women rolling up a total of 113 points.

The appended table shows the complete record scores.
