

SEGAL TAKES CENTURY RUN.

Long Mark Riders Finish Ahead in the Long Island Run.

The long-mark riders finished first and second in the 100-mile record run of the Century Road Club Association yesterday over the Merrick Road on Long Island. S. Segal and J. S. Schuster, both on the forty-minute mark, finished first and second respectively. The leaders were together all through the ride, but Schuster had a lead on Segal until the last mile of the race, when the latter shot to the front and stayed there. Hawkins, Fee, and Lewin, with fifteen minutes' handicap, were practically scratch riders, and they finished in the order named a fifth of a second apart. The riders finished as follows:

TRAVIS NAMES HIS TEAM.

Chooses the Men Who Will Play for New York in Inter-City Matches.

Capt. Walter J. Travis announced yesterday the make-up of the metropolitan team which will compete in the inter-city matches for the Lesley Cup at the Brookline Country Club on Friday and Saturday. The men who will play are W. J. Travis, Jerome D. Travers, Archie Graham, Findlay S. Douglas, George T. Brokaw, Robert Abbott, Archie Reid, John M. Ward, Fred Herreshoff, A. M. Robbins, and Marshall Whitlatch. The team is the strongest that can be got together in the metropolitan district for the matches, and is believed to be pretty sure of successfully defending the cup.

The team will leave for Brookline on Thursday in order to practice over the course on Friday, while the Boston and Philadelphia teams are fighting it out to determine which is to meet the metropolitan in the final match on Saturday. It is generally expected that Boston will win and will be pitted against the New York team in the final.

The forming of a strong central association will likely be the result of the meeting of anglers from all parts of the country in this city on Nov. 11. Fishermen believe that unless the attention of the Federal authorities is called to the remedying of glaring abuses there will be scarcely any fish in a few more years. The pollution of streams by factories of various sorts is illegal, but few States seem able to cope with it. Sea anglers are not less affected than those who take their sport in fresh water. In many States indiscriminate seining has almost ruined the fishing.

Fluke, porgies, and lafayettes are plentiful at Norton's Point, the western end of Coney Island. Live killies as bait are generally used by fishermen at this point and they serve for all kinds of fish.

The Menhaden Fishing Club of the Bronx will wind up its season on Wednesday with a trip in Jamaica Bay.

Long Beach is considered a good place for bluefish, blackfish, fluke, and porgies. There is admirable surf fishing there on the ocean side, striped bass being caught frequently.

Two codfish weighing five pounds each were caught by James Tudor of South Brooklyn in Gravesend Bay, just above the Captain's Pier, on Friday last.
