

INTER-CITY GOLF TO-DAY.

Boston and Philadelphia to Begin Cup Contest at Garden City.

Golfers from three cities—New York, Boston, and Philadelphia—were out in force yesterday on the Garden City links preparing for the inter-city team contests for the Lesley Cup, which begins to-day. Each city will be represented by teams of ten players, but teams of twelve members have been picked, as the two men who make the worst showing in the morning play may be retired in favor of two others for the afternoon round. As the local association is the present holder of the trophy, the opening match to-day will be between Boston and Philadelphia, and the winner will play the New York contingent to-morrow for the cup and inter-city championship. Under the Captaincy of H. H. Wilder, the Harvard champion, Boston has sent a very strong team. The members are H. H. Wilder, J. G. Anderson, P. W. Whittemore, T. R. Fuller, present Massachusetts champion; T. M. Claflin, Hugo R. Johnstone, A. L. White, C. G. Stevenson, James G. Thorp, P. M. Griggs, R. R. Freeman, and A. H. W. Shaw.

The Philadelphia team will be captained by W. Poultney Smith, and consists of Dr. Simon Carr, W. T. West, H. B. McFarland, R. E. Griscom, A. W. Tillinghast, Richard Hanson, Walter Pfeil, W. L. Thompson, A. H. Smith, and H. W. Perrin.

The cup-defending team from the metropolitan association will be captained by Walter J. Travis, and with him will be Jerome D. Travers, Max Behr, Fred Herreshoff, Findlay S. Douglas, John M. Ward, Arden H. Robbins, George T. Brokaw, Chadwick Sawyer, Dwight Partridge, John Reid, Jr., and C. A. Dunning.

The play each day will be thirty-six holes, single-team contests being the feature of the morning, and two-ball foursomes in the afternoon.

VANDERBILT ENTRY CLOSED.

Rigal in Bayard—Clement Named for the Grand Prize Race at Savannah.

The Vanderbilt Cup entries closed yesterday with sixteen cars entered. No announcement of the complete list was made, however, awaiting the arrival of the late mails. The final day brought in the two Locomobiles and a second Mathewson. The others previously received were three Mercedes, a Mathewson, a Brasier, a Mora, a Chadwick, an Acme, two Knoxes, a Thomas, an Isotta, and a Renault.

For the Grand Prize race the Automobile Club of America received a second Bayard-Clement, which Rigal will drive in the Savannah race. This will be Rigal's first appearance in America. This brings the Grand Prize total up to nineteen cars, with another month for post entries.

For the small-car race the Isotta Import Company has entered a four-cylinder car with $2\frac{1}{2}$ -inch cylinders. The car weighs 1,800 pounds, and showed a speed of 57 miles an hour in the Voiturette race at Dieppe, where it finished eighth.

The New York Times

Published: October 2, 1908

Copyright © The New York Times