FAREWELL TO PASTOR.

The Rev. A. P. Mihm Leaves Brooklyn and Goes to an Ontario Church.

The deacons, trustees and all the societies of the Second German Baptist Church, Evergreen av. and Woodbine street, Monday night united to give to the Rev. A. P. Mihm, the retiring pastor, a farewell reception.

A brief musical programme was given during the evening by the church choir, under the direction of William Lees and Mr. Dreves, and then followed a series of farewell and complimentary speeches to Mr. Mihm by the representatives of the trustees, the deacons, the Sunday school, the Ladies Aid Society, the King's Daughters, the Young People's Society and the Boys Brigade.

Through the intention of Mr. Mihm to resign his pastorate for some time, the congregation has taken but few steps to secure a new pastor, and for that purpose a meeting of the church officials will be held on Sunday, February 7.

FREE WITH BOSS' MONEY.

Butcher Boy Played Role of Philanthropist to Destitute Soldier and Got in Trouble.

In the Court of Special sessions at Jamaica yesterday, William Walz of 322 Seventh avenue, Astoria, was arraigned on a charge of petit larceny. He was employed by Charles Geby, a Long Island City butcher, and was accused of appropriating $16.50 of the boss' money to his own use.

Walz was given $12.50 and told by his employer to go out and collect some bills. He took in $4. and with the $16.50 in his possession started in to have a good time at a drinking den. He had it, and as he was leaving he encountered a soldier, thinly clad and weebone. Walz invited the wearer of the blue into the saloon to have a drink, and they had not one, but several. Then the soldier further touched Walz's susceptible heart by saying he lacked proper clothing, and the butcher gave him his winter coat, but he left in the pockets all his employer's money that he had not expended.

GOLFERS EAGER FOR UNION.

Philadelphians Would Unite With Western Players in State for Lesley Cup Contest

Golfers in and around Philadelphia are still greatly interested in the movement to form a Pennsylvania State Golf Association. The matter was brought up at the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Golf Association and the idea has met with universal satisfaction.

That it is recognized that an organization of this kind is required before Pennsylvania can hope to compete with any degree of success in the Lesley Cup contests.

The Quaker team can put up a good fight with the Massachusetts Association, but Philadelphians recognize that they are at present unable to cope with the classy contingent which invariably brought forward to uphold the honor of the Metropolitan district in these matches.

All that is required to make the proposed association a success is the consent of the Metropolitan and Massachusetts associations, and there is every reason to believe this will be forthcoming readily.

As showing the sorry figure the Philadelphia team has invariably cut in these tri-city matches, the following summary of its doings will be interesting:

At Garden City Golf Club, October 2 and 28, 1907, Metropolitan Golf Association beat Philadelphia Golf Association by 7 points to 3 in the singles and by 3 points to 2 in the four ball matches—total, 10 points to 5.

At Merion Country Club, Haverford, Pa., October 25 and 27, 1907, Massachusetts beat Philadelphia by 3 points to 4, winning the singles 7 to 3 and in four-ball matches 5 to 4. The latter matches being left unfinished, owing to darkness.

At the Country Club, Hoesville, October 25 and 27, 1907, Philadelphia beat Massachusetts 5 points to 3 in the singles and 4 to 2 in the four-ball matches. In Philadelphia 18 points to 7 in singles, 8 to 4 in four-ball matches.

Thus it will be seen that Philadelphia has everything to gain by an amalgamation with the Association of Western Pennsylvania, as they then would be able to call on the best of the Pittsburgh clubs to help them in the annual battle for the Lesley Cup.
