

FIRST PRIZE GOES TO SATTERTHWAIT

Uncomfortably humid weather probably had not a little to do with the rather mediocre golf played by the contestants in the second-day's play of the tournament initiated by Howard W. Perrin and George A. Crump, at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club, Noble, yesterday. As a rule scores were high, but Ed Satterthwaite, W. G. Pfeil and H. L. Willoughby played good golf, although Willoughby was not so consistent as Satterthwaite and Pfeil. Satterthwaite played very consistently considering that he has played four days' hard golf and by being only 17 down to par captured the chief prize. He justly succeeded in getting in ahead of Francis W. Kemble and W. G. Pfeil, who were each 18 down.

Pfeil, however, had the consolation of winning the prize for the best gross score for the fifty-four holes with 241 strokes, three strokes better than Kemble. Willoughby captured the prize for the best eighteen holes against par and was only three down.

The tournament was a great success and should greatly assist the committee in selecting the team for the Lesley Cup matches between New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania on September 27 and 28. Summary:
