

PLAY STARTS TODAY FOR R. W. LESLEY GOLF TROPHY

Play for the Robert W. Lesley cup between teams representing the Pennsylvania, Metropolitan and Massachusetts Golf Associations will begin on the course of the Huntington Valley Country Club, Noble, this morning. Probably the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts teams will compete today and the winners will meet the Metropolitan team, who are the holders of the trophy, tomorrow. Twelve singles matches will be played this morning and six two-man foursomes this afternoon, but how the teams will be arranged will not be decided until the players assemble at the club.

It goes without saying that the Pennsylvania representatives will make a big effort to capture the coveted trophy but all recognize that they have a very stiff task on hand, as both New York and Massachusetts are represented by strong teams.

The Huntington Valley course is in the best of condition and some fine golf should be seen today and tomorrow.
