Shadows of another baseball era were called back to the Polo Grounds yesterday by the finesse of two of the younger set with a lively ball, snip-ing at batters from a distance of 60 feet and six inches. It will be many an afternoon before major league fans see a better pitched game than the one Pat Malone and the Cubs won from Larry Benton and Lie Glants by a margin of 1 to 0.

The Chicago speedballer held command of his game at all times, and after he finally received the support of one run in the seventh, he actually seemed to have an impregnable lead. Malone gave up five hits to only four by Benton, but only once were the Giants able to put two of them together in any one inning.
